Specifications

Overview:

The Solarix PVC Trunking 3 Metre 100mm X 40mm allows for neater cable installation which would otherwise be running loosely around floors and walls, causing an untidy view and a possible tripping hazard. If cables need to be replaced or re-wired, trunking will make the job simpler due to the easy access of the relevant wire. The robust trunking also serves as a protector from cables being damaged by falling objects or being trodden on. Ideal for use in residential, commercial or industrial construction. Non-conductive and is resistant to a wide range of chemicals such as acids, alkaline and salt solutions. Quick and easy installation.
